INSTITUTE ALL WEEK

Town Is Filled With County School Teachers On, Vacation.

BUT IT IS SUCH A VACATION! They Must Attend Two Sessions a Day and Every Day.

The Institute for Christian county teachers began yesterday and will continue throughout the week.

The sessions are being held at the McLean College building, a very inaccessible place, considering the weather, and the attendance is not as large as it would have been down town.

There are 84 county districts and from 135 to 150 teachers who are compelled by law to attend and these will all be on hand or will have to present good excuses and sickness is about the only one considered good enough. Many of the teachers will not try to make two climbs of "College hill" but take lunch with them.

Supt. Foster has prepared a special program for Thursday, including dinner on the grounds. He has made the following announcement:

"Thursday, August 5, 1915, will be Trustees' Day in the Teachers' Institute. The program will begin promptly at 10 o'clock a. m. and you are not only invited but urged to attend. You are also invited to eat barbecue dinner on McLean College Hill where the Institute will be held. In the afternoon of the same day will be held the graduating exercises for those who have passed the eighth grade examination and we want your presence there. Come and help us to make it a great day."

The Institute Instructor is Prof. M. A. Leiper, of Bowling Green, who was here last year.

The college auditorium, aside from the discomforts of reaching it, is an ideal place, the building being provided with all modern conveniences and equipments, including a swimming pool.

Much regret is expressed that the proposed jitney bus line was not established in time for the Institute.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Announcement of the reoccupation of Mexico City by General Gonzales' army was followed Saturday by a statement from General Carranza's headquarters at Vera Cruz that immediate efforts would be made to send foodstuffs to the starving population. Heavily guarded trains, it was asserted, were being prepared to leave Vera Cruz with provisions to supplement food being taken into the city by the army of occupation.

Washington officials hoped General Gonzales had left the line so well patrolled that the trains would get through with slight delay. They said the United States was determined to relieve the famine in Mexico City if Carranza's troops could not do it.

J. E. Graddy, who was arrested and taken into custody here last week on a complaint from Lexington authorities, was taken to Lexington Sunday by Detective Thompson, a plain clothes man of the Lexington police force, who came here for him.

It was claimed by the Lexington officials that Graddy was an accomplice of H. G. Hayman, of Atlanta, Ga., and that, working together, they had obtained money from citizens of Lexington under false pretenses, purporting to represent the Commercial Reporting company.

Graddy stuck to his claim that he was representing a bona fide business concern and was innocent of the charge.

The committee from Christian county reported that much good work had been done on the gap between Crofton and Nortonville and that it had been made ready for the metal. Fills have been made, hills cut down and the roadbed rolled. It will be ready for the inspection committee this month.

The meeting closed after an opportunity was given for new members to enroll their names.

The Dixie Bee Line Association of Christian county met at the Court House yesterday morning at 10 o'clock with a good attendance. The meeting was called to order by President R. E. Cooper with appropriate remarks.

Col. W. R. Howell was present and consented to make a speech. He told of the enthusiasm along the other end of the Bee Line and gave a sample of the boosting oratory that created such a sensation in Indiana.

Judge J. F. Gordon told of the situation in Hopkins county, where only dirt roads can be built with native materials, but he said they would be the best dirt roads that could be constructed anywhere.

FALL OF WARSAW

Envelopment of Polish Capital by The Austro-Germans Is Hastened.

OCCUPATION OF CITY NEAR Rear Guard Actions Have Developed Into Fairly Large Battles.

London, August 2.—The anniversary of war's outbreak passed without the Germans occupying Warsaw, said to be part of their program. However news of this climax to the Austro-German offensive in the east is expected hourly, for what little information is allowed to leak through, declares the Russians for several days have been withdrawing to the Brest line, leaving small forces to fight rear guard actions so that the main army may make good their retreat.

These rear guard actions have developed into fairly large battles, as the Russians, whose steadiness has been phenomenal in the face of defeat, are offering stubborn resistance and delivering powerful counter attacks. They have prevented Field Marshall von Hindenburg from throwing more of his troops across the Narew, repulsed German attacks northwest of Warsaw and driven back to the river some of the invading troops who crossed the Vistula south of Warsaw.

In the southeast Field Marshal von Mackensen continues his victorious advance. He has swept aside the resistance of the Russians and forced them to retreat along both banks of the Bug. The Germans already have passed through Cheim in pursuit. Thus, on this front the retirement of the Warsaw armies is seriously threatened.

During the month of July, Berlin says the Germans captured more than 95,000 Russians between the Pilica river and the Baltic alone.

The Russians according to Petrograd, have stopped General von Buelow's advance in Kovno province, toward the Vilna Petrograd railway. If Grand Duke Nicholas is to hold the Brest line after his retirement from Warsaw, it is necessary that General von Buelow's offensive be arrested, for should he reach the railway he would interfere seriously with the Russian communications.

It is not yet certain whether the Russian armies can make good their retirement from Warsaw. The Austro-Germans have moved up very strong reinforcements to hasten their encircling movement. The appearance of fresh troops suggests that the German staff will not be satisfied with the capture of the city or even the destruction of part of the Russian army, but should this be accomplished, will attack the Brest line and endeavor finally to crush the entire Russian forces.

Meanwhile the Germans, who appear to have an inexhaustible supply of munitions, are fighting desperately to retain every position they hold in the west. They have recaptured part of the trenches lost to the British near Hooge and are trying to regain what they lost to the French in the Muenster region of Alsace.

An unconfirmed report from Rome tonight says the Austrians are preparing to evacuate Triest, and already have removed the machinery of the munitions factories.

Two American bluejackets were killed Friday night in an attack by natives on Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, held by Rear Admiral Caperton, with 500 men from the cruiser Washington. The attacking party was beaten off, and order was maintained in the city itself. No sailors were wounded, and the loss of the attackers were not reported. The dead are: William Gompers, seaman, of Brooklyn, and Cason S. Whitehurst, ordinary seaman, of Norfolk.

The Russians occupied many cities in Galicia for six months and Galicia is still there. The Germans may occupy Warsaw and Poland will still be Poland when the war ends. Upon the last invasion of Russia, 600,000 men captured Moscow and only 60,000 of them got back home.

Now that the Russians have evacuated Warsaw, the Germans are in possession of the capital of Poland and have men to throw into the west. To a man up a tree it looks like the allies have waited too long for the much talked of offensive.

LITTLE LITTLE

LITTLE DIFFERENCE IN TIME

Didn't Matter to Old Darkey in Kentucky Whether Watch Was Regulated by Sun or Railroad.

A prominent lawyer tells this tale of the hills of Kentucky. He had been in Jackson during the hearing of a big land case, and after the strain of several weeks in the courtroom had decided to take a trip up in the mountains and enjoy the quieting influence of the hills. He traveled the paths and narrow mountain roads till he found himself at the end of several days' journey about forty or fifty miles from the railroad. It was about noon, the lawyer judged, for his watch had run down and he could not be exact. But in the midst of this deep contemplation the lawyer came upon an old darkey sitting upon a boulder alongside the road.

"What time have you?" he asked of the old darkey.

"Well, suh, boss, the old Waterberry says she's about 10 minutes to 12," was the reply.

"Is that sun time or railroad time?" again questioned the lawyer.

"What diffunce does that make? One am about as fer from here as the other."—Louisville Times.

Self-Effacement.

"Are you going to your wife's party?" asked the old friend.

"No," replied Mr. Cumrox. "The last time we had a party I attended and couldn't find anybody to talk to."

"Then you are not a success in society?"

"No. The most I can do is to stay in hiding and not injure the prospects of mother and the girls."

A Versatile Man.

"I couldn't get along without my doctor."

"Does he make out his bill 'to professional service' or 'entertainment'?"

Creating That Impression.

"I see it again stated that eating onions regularly will make a person live a long time. Do you suppose there is any truth in that theory?"

"I can't say, but eating onions regularly will probably make a person's life seem long to other people with whom he comes in contact."

A Candidate for Reform.

"What are you so gloomy about?" asked the warden. "The offense for which you were sent to this prison might have been much more serious."

"That's what depresses me. I'm afraid they ain't goin' to let me stay here long enough to finish me education."

Not Much Argument.

"Have you chosen a name for your little daughter yet?"

"Yes. We've decided to call her Clotilde."

"That's a pretty name. How did you decide on it?"

"My wife said that was the one she wanted."

Commercialization.

"What does this talk of commercialized baseball refer to?"

"The fact, possibly, that so many players have gone into vaudeville or on the lecture platform."

Not a Sincere Dancer.

"What is your reason for wanting to learn to dance?"

When Nelson Blockaded France.

Blockading was not unknown to the British navy many years ago, and efficiently was the duty discharged. It was a matter of shutting up a fleet.

When Nelson was compelled in pursuit of fresh vegetables and water to withdraw his squadron to the nearest anchoring ground off Sardinia, he left two watchful frigates on guard. These frigates had a lively time in evading surprises from the French fleet itself, but they developed such high qualities of seamanship as to prove a match in vigilance for the enemy. Nelson, exclaiming against the frugality of the admiralty in ships, said, "It is shameful." But as usual the result was greater glory to the young commanders.

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of It in Hopkinsville But Daily Growing Less.

The kidney often cry for help. Not another organ in the whole body more delicately constructed; Not one more important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

Names Interchanged.

Mary is not by any means the only name that has been borne by men and women alike, writes a correspondent who has dipped into old English parish and other registers. Sir Patience Ward was lord mayor of London in 1680, Eve Sifflith was mentioned in a will of the sixteenth century, and Grace Hardwin was an old land owner in America. As to male names usurped by the ladies, instances occur of feminine Philips and Georges, and in one case a daughter was duly baptized Noah. A goddaughter of the duke of Wellington was named Arthur in his honor, and in Eppingham church there is a monument to Timothy, wife of Richard Mabane.

McChesney's Work In Reducing Kentucky's Income And Saving For the Corporations the Money That Would Have Gone Into the State Treasury.

THE McCHESNEY PLAN TO REDUCE KENTUCKY REVENUE.

ARRAIGNS McCHESNEY AS A LOBBYIST

Extracts From His Reply to an Attack By H. V. McChesney, In His Georgetown Speech.

LOBBYISTS WHO PLACE THE HEAVY HAND OF TAXATION UPON YOU.

But there are men who make it their business to seduce these representatives from the paths of justice; there are men who make it their duty to ensnare and debauch them, or who have it in their power to place the heavy hand of taxation upon you, and when they do, they commit a crime not against one man or against one woman, but against the whole people, three millions of men and women.

He who thus offends against society in time of peace is called a lobbyist, and Harry McChesney is a professional lobbyist and has been for years.

And I have the proof of it!

Here is a letter written by him to a public service corporation.

He says he is a lawyer and that I am just as bad as he is because I defended the Terre Haute criminals for a fee of ten thousand dollars. He said that I took a bad case for ten thousand dollars, (even twenty dollars catches him.)

But to proceed, I have defended many a man for murder, but I have never yet helped to commit one.

This man, Mr. McChesney, does not defend men for violating the law, but he offers to show them how to violate or evade it.

You see the difference!

And he writes to a number of corporations, perhaps a hundred of them, that the legislature is contemplating a sweeping change in the taxing system; in other words, preparing probably to take some of the burden off of land and labor and put it upon accumulated wealth.

Did he write to the people anything about that? Oh, no.

Now, listen, he says:

"I will keep the companies I represent informed all along as to the progress of this matter, so that if it should take a turn which they regard as prejudicial to their interests, they may take such concerted action as they deem proper for their protection."

They may take such concerted action as they may deem proper for their protection!

Do you know what that means?

How do telegraph and telephone companies, how do traction and

KENTUCKY W. C. T. U. AGAINST McCHESNEY

Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, President Of The State
W. C. T. U. Says:

"There were at the beginning of the campaign hundreds of voters who were for McChesney until it became known that he was the candidate for the machine. Since that fact became generally known, there has been a revulsion of feeling and a surprisingly large number of dry votes will go to Stanley as a protest against the prohibition fight being fought with such instruments as the machine provides.

"I believe that Mr. Stanley will be nominated and that the protesting prohibition voters will be the number of his majority."

railroad companies, take such concerted action as they deem proper for their protection before a Legislature?

Why, they meet in a back room and they put up the money necessary to secure some smooth lobbyist who proceeds to "fix" the Legislature, and you know that is the way "corporations take such concerted action before legislatures as they deem proper for their protection."

And he was warning them in time that he would be there handy, servile and faithful as a pointer dog, in indicating just what men his abler ally should approach.

Woodrow Wilson turned on the light—no wonder he never calls the name of Woodrow Wilson.

I fancied that there were men, who, to hear the rustle of silk and damask, to dwell in marble halls, to ride in costly limousiness, noiseless as an Elgin watch and swift as an eagle's wing, that they might forget the admonition of the Nazarene when he said, "What shall it profit a man if he should gain the world and lose his own soul?"

Or, "What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

I have fancied that there were men who tamper with legislatures and betray a whole state for the lure of enormous wealth, but I never dreamed that God ever made a man that would write a sentence like this: "I will look after all franchise matters for you to December 31, 1910, and give you the special service this winter also, for a fee of twenty dollars!" Twenty dollars!

Ah, these corporate parasites these creatures who fatten upon the sweat and toil and brawn of honest men.

Millions and millions of money that this man lifted from corporate wealth, from special privilege and dropped the whole intolerable burden upon the very people whom he now asks to make him the chief magistrate of Kentucky because he is a Prohibitionist!

STANLEY MAKES GREAT SPEECH AT LAWRENCEBURG

Stanley Stands With Woodrow Wilson for "Local Option"—
McChesney Stands Against Woodrow Wilson.

Stanley spoke for two hours and the applause which greeted him at the end of his speech showed that the audience would have liked for him to continue indefinitely.

Anderson County will give Stanley between 400 and 500 majority.

It was one of the most representative Anderson County audiences that ever listened to a public speaker in Lawrenceburg.

Stanley declared that he stood upon the Democratic platform while McChesney was fighting against it.

That he stood upon the principles of Thomas Jefferson, Jackson, Monroe and Woodrow Wilson, while McChesney stood upon the principles of O'Rear, Dr. Palmer and Caleb Powers.

Stanley created a sensation when he declared that McChesney had written letters to various big corporations offering his services as a lobbyist before the Kentucky Legislature.

He further read from a declaration of the Anti-Saloon League officially stating that it would oppose Woodrow Wilson for re-election.

"Mr. Harry McChesney stands with the Anti-Saloon League against President Wilson."

"Stands with the State Machine against the Democratic platform."

"Stands with Caleb Powers, a Kentucky Republican, and Dr. Palmer, a Michigan Republican, against the Democratic party of Kentucky."

"Yet he is appealing to Democrats of this State for support in a Democratic Primary, and the only argument he has to give to offset all this self-condemnation is 'Oh, how dry I am!'"

Stanley referred to the shaft standing in front of the Court House on which is inscribed the names of the Confederate soldiers from Anderson County.

He declared that among these names was the beloved name of his own father.

He told in eloquent words how these men had marched forth in the name of personal liberty, 7,000 strong, while only a few hundred of them returned.

He asked his audience for what purpose they had gone forth to battle if it were not for local self-government, the principle which had been written in the Democratic party by Thomas Jefferson, "The Sage of Monticello," and which has been enunciated by Woodrow Wilson, the greatest living Democrat.

He read the Shannon letter to show that President Wilson declared himself in favor of local option, and to show that the President had taken the position that the liquor issue was a social and moral question, and should not be injected into politics as Mr. McChesney had injected it.

He scored Mr. McChesney for misrepresenting the President's views on the liquor question as an insult to the President, for which Mr. McChesney must be held responsible.—Advertisement.

JUDGE EVANS SOON TO WED

First Wife Was Miss Lou Gowan of This City.

The engagement of Judge Walter Evans of the federal court to Miss Louise Wood, of Worcester, Mass., was announced Saturday. News of the coming marriage was a complete surprise to the friends of Judge Evans in Louisville, as no intimation of the contemplated nuptials had been given. The ceremony will be performed on August 25.

Judge Evans is now in the east. He has made a host of friends in Louisville since his appointment to the federal bench in 1899. Prior to that time, he was congressman from this district.

Miss Wood was a close friend of the late Miss Fannie Evans, daughter of Judge Evans.

Judge Evans has been a widower for several years. His first wife was Miss Lou Gowan, of this city. He is past 70 years of age. His bride-to-be is many years his junior.

Co. D. Vs. Pembroke.

The "Co. D." management has scheduled a game for Thursday with the Pembroke lads. Pembroke defeated the soldier boys several weeks ago and they have been thirsting for sweet revenge ever since. Pembroke defeated "Co. D." by a score of 7 to 6 in 12 innings, which shows that the clubs are evenly matched and should put up a fast article of baseball. This will be the first game of the local aggregation since the encampment of the State Guard and all of the baseball fans in the city who are hungry for their favorite pastime will have an opportunity to enjoy the sport again.

TOM RHEA HAS PROVEN FRIEND TO TAXPAYERS OF KENTUCKY

Played Important Part In Forcing Large Corporations to Pay Their Just Proportion of Taxes and is Best Qualified in Every Way for Auditorship.

It is natural and proper that the Democrats of Kentucky should take a deep interest in the selection of their candidate for Governor on August 7, but they should not allow that race to overshadow all others and cause them to neglect or overlook other important races. Especially should they give their attention to the Auditor's race, for that position ranks in importance next to that of Governor.

The Auditor is the head of the fiscal affairs of the state and the head of the important Board of Franchise Assessments which fixes the franchise valuations upon which all corporations doing business in the state must pay taxes. The work of that board is of far-reaching importance to the people, and, above all others, the Auditor, who presides as chairman of this board, should be a man well equipped and trained for its difficult duties, and one who is incorruptible and fearless, ready to compel the corporations to pay their just part of the revenues of the state, without being unjust to any corporation or persons.

Such a man is Thos. S. Rhea, who is asking the nomination from the Democratic party, and there is not a man in Kentucky better qualified for the position or more deserving of the support of the Democrats. As State Treasurer for nearly four years in the present administration, he has been a member of the board and a leading spirit in its splendid work. With his intelligent and active assistance, the franchise assessments upon corporations have been so increased that the state is now receiving several hundred thousand dollars more in revenue every year than ever before. The board has increased the franchise valuation upon all corporations from $48,000,000 to $132,000,000. Four of the largest railroad companies, whose assessments were raised, have carried it into the courts; and, if the courts uphold the action of the board, the increased revenue, together with the large increase from other corporations, which have not contested the raises, will be a great help to the taxpayers, and in a reasonable time aid materially in paying off the indebtedness of the state.

Tom Rhea has always been true to the party and its nominees. He has never bolted nor sulked when things did not go his way in primaries or conventions. The Democratic party in the campaign this fall needs him upon the ticket. No other man can give it greater strength or do more to insure its success in the November election. He is a man pleasing and attractive personally, free from malice, kind, considerate to all, a temperate and a temperance man, never having touched a drink of alcoholic liquor in all his life, and, all in all, he is a man worthy in the highest degree of the confidence and support of all good citizens.

The Democrats of the state could not find a better man to nominate for any office than Tom Rhea, and if the signs indicate anything, he will be the nominee for Auditor by a handsome majority in the primary on August 7.—Advertisement.

A Delightful Afternoon.

The regular semi monthly meeting of the Casky Book Club was held at the beautiful and commodious home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnett, on the Russellville pike, Wednesday, July 28th, that day being in regular order for these meetings that mean so much to the pleasure of the members and friends of this most commendable club, which has for its main object the promotion of the social and literary interest of the entire community. The writer, being a specially invited guest, and his first time present, was for an hour, delightfully entertained with this social and literary converse.

At four o'clock we were invited into the large and handsomely decorated dining room where Mrs. Barnett assisted by Mrs. C. R. Garland, Miss Mary Dulin and Lois Severence served a two course lunch of refreshments and ices.

Through the fondness for children and in accordance with the kind and lovable disposition of Mr. and Mrs. Barnett, and by request, the children were present by a score or more and they, too, enjoyed these delicious refreshments.

If there be one who doubts the enjoyment of the meetings, or one who would for a brief time "shake" the company of a sordid, selfish spirit which sometimes manifests itself in the most genteel society—let such a one accept the first invitation he receives to a meeting of the Casky Book Club.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

V.—E. P. Ripley

On Relations of Railroads and People

The industrial leaders of this nation are talking to the public face to face through the columns of this paper. The time was when if a corporation had anything to say to the people they sent a hired hand, whispered it through a lawyer or employed a lobbyist to explain it to the legislature, but the men who know and the men who do are now talking over the fence to the man who plows.

When the leading business men of this nation get "back to the soil" with their problems, strife and dissension will disappear, for when men look into each other's faces and smile there is a better day coming.

Mr. E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe Railroad, when asked to give his views in reference to relations existing between the railroad and the public said in part:

"Frequently we hear statements to the effect that these relations are improving, that the era of railroad baiting has passed and that public sentiment now favors treating the railroads fairly. As yet this change in public sentiment, if any such there be, is not effective in results.

It is true that in the legislatures of the southern states during the past winter there were fewer unreasonable and unreasoning laws passed than usual, but a consideration of the hostile bills introduced shows that there is still reason for much disquiet even though they were defeated by more or less of a majority.

Moreover, the idea that the railroads have been harshly treated does not seem to prevail in the offices of the State Railroad Commissions which seem to cherish a notion that their business is not to act as an arbitrator between the railroads and the people, but which proceed on the theory that the railroads are able to take care of themselves and that their duty is to act as attorney for the people even though in so doing they deny justice to the railroads. It requires no argument to demonstrate that the railroads are entitled to justice equally with other citizens and taxpayers. That they have not received it and are not receiving it is perfectly susceptible of proof. That they have practically no recourse in the courts has also been determined.

The situation therefore is that the people, through their representatives, must elect whether the services of the railroads shall be adequately compensated or not; and it requires no fortune teller or soothsayer to predict that in the long run the service will take the class that is paid for and no better.

The natural competition between the railroads and the natural desire to perform first-class service has heretofore resulted in giving the public much more than it was willing to pay for. Continuation of this will be impossible and no laws, however drastic, can long accomplish the impossible."

Handles Grow Crooked.

The Japanese are expert in the patient work needed in gardening, and it is from the Japanese farmers on the Pacific coast that most of the wood is sent for use as umbrella handles. Twisted handles were formerly bent laboriously by steaming the wood to make it flexible, but the Japanese force the pretzel and other twists in the growing plant which by a system of pruning is forced to nourish the distorted twigs, the whole process taking three years before they are ready for the manufacturer to strip and polish, or to use bark and all.

Lawyers' Ability.

It seems that a lawyer is something of a carpenter. He can file a bill, split a hair, chop logic, dovetail an argument, make an entry, get up a case, frame an indictment, empanel a jury, put them in a box, bore a court, chisel a client, and other like things.

Cup of Coffee Ran Away.

A woman entered one of New York's automatic luncheon rooms appearing much preoccupied. After changing a dime for two nickels she put one of them in the slot marked "sandwiches" and the other in the hot coffee slot. She turned the crank, as per directions, and then gave a series of panic-stricken staccato shrieks of "Oh, oh, oh—look!" The other auto-eaters turned in time to see that she had forgotten to put a cup under the faucet, hence the dismay. All of the brownish liquid had filtered down in the drain.

"Hair of the Dog."
When a man is debilitated from the effects of the previous night's debauch he is frequently counseled to take "hair of the dog that bit him," the meaning being that he should take a little of the same kind of liquor that had upset him. COULD NOT SEE THE FUTURE

Two Men of Great Inventive Ability Who Had Not the Quality of Foresight.

Not infrequently great inventors do no comprehend the significance of the thing they have produced. An interesting anecdote of two famous men of science whose foresight did not equal their inventive ability follows.

When Hertz first began to obtain satisfactory results from his now famous researches into the possibility of transmitting electric waves, certain men of science suggested that some day similar vibrations might serve to transmit messages through space. Hertz laughed at the hypothesis, and assured all comers that his experiments were for laboratories only. Now, after a few short years, it is hard to find a single issue of a daily paper that does not record some noteworthy example of the use of wireless telegraphy.

Levassor was the great engineer who sketched the automobile with such skill that his design has not been materially changed to this day. After Levassor accomplished his historic trip from Paris to Bordeaux and return, at the dizzy speed of about fifteen miles an hour, his admirers gave him a banquet. During the toasts, one of them, stirred by the spirit of the occasion, rose and enthusiastically called on the assembly to drink to the approaching day when carriages should travel at the speed of sixty miles an hour. Levassor turned to his nearest neighbor and asked in a quick undertone, "Why is it that after every banquet some people feel called on to make fools of themselves?"—Les Inventions Illustrées.

Set Off by Human Electricity.
The theory that a man's body may contain enough electricity to set off a charge of explosive was put forward by a British government expert on combustibles to account for an explosion at Stowmarket which resulted in the death of four men. Major Cooper-Key, the expert, expressed the opinion that one of the men had accumulated electricity in his body, "and not having earthed himself, a spark passed through a dangerous commodity and so caused it to explode." He added: "It was an exceptional accident, which could probably have been prevented by the insertion of a metal stud in the worker's rubber overshoes. A regulation to this effect will probably be made in the future."

Bacteria in Hamburger Steak.
According to an examination made by Messrs. Weinziril and Newton for the American Journal of Public Health, hamburger steak is full of bacteria, but is not necessarily unwholesome on this account. It has been suggested that a limit of 1,000,000 bacteria to the gram be set as that beyond which hamburger steak may not go. These experimenters propose a limit of 10,000,000 bacteria per gram, but add that even this is low, as about 50 per cent of the samples bought in the market contain more than that.

WISE PROVISIONS OF NATURE

Nutritive Conditions Such That Man is Enabled to Live in Any Part of Earth.

Two studies recently made by European scientists illustrate the range in nutritive conditions to which the human being can adapt himself.

In one case an Eskimo on the island of Disco in western Greenland consumed in one day nearly four pounds of boiled meat corresponding to 86 grams of nitrogen and 218 grams of fat. This is said to be far below the record figure among these people, who eat very large meals at irregular and somewhat infrequent intervals.

Indigestion and other nutritive disorders, however, are rare among them, and their physical endurance and resistance to cold is very high. The way the above extraordinary meal was utilized by this Eskimo was found to be very satisfactory.

The other study was of a man in Copenhagen "who was able to maintain himself in excellent nutritive equilibrium and muscular efficiency through long periods of months, not merely days, on a diet essentially composed of potatoes and margarin." Four pounds of potatoes were eaten daily, yielding 3.62 grams of digestible nitrogen which with the margarin amounted to 3,900 calories.

When hard work had to be performed this man ate eight pounds of potatoes with liberal additions of fat, so that the entire energy content was brought up to 5,000 calories with 10 grams of digestible nitrogen. No dilatation of the stomach was found to result from these monster meals.

Such curiosities of the literature of nutrition simply show the great adaptability of the human organism, which has enabled man to live in every region of the earth. It is needless to say that neither the maximum nor the minimum of any nutritive element is desirable. The normal individual lives in the safe medium.

Fern Was Peved.

According to an eminent botanist, plants are so sensitive that they resent neglect and are susceptible to kind treatment, showing their gratitude in charming ways. We are therefore the more ready to believe a story told us a day or two ago by a lover of nature. He was watering a fern on a cold morning. He forgot to temper the water. The fern, incensed by the shock, leaped from the pot and bit him savagely in the leg.—Philip Hale, in Boston Herald.

NO STATE-WIDE SAYS JAMES

Democrats Are Committed To County Unit Says
Ollie.

STAND WILL IMPERIL PARTY

With President As To Local Self-Government---Senator
Makes Statement.

Senator Ollie James gave out a statement in which he declared his opposition to "State-wide prohibition as undemocratic" in that it "denies local self-government to the people of the State."

"I believe the Democratic party," he says, "should declare in favor of the continuance and strict enforcement of the existing county unit law. I hope that no Democrat will, by his vote, directly or indirectly do anything to force upon our party a declaration in favor of State-wide prohibition."

Senator James' statement in full is as follows:

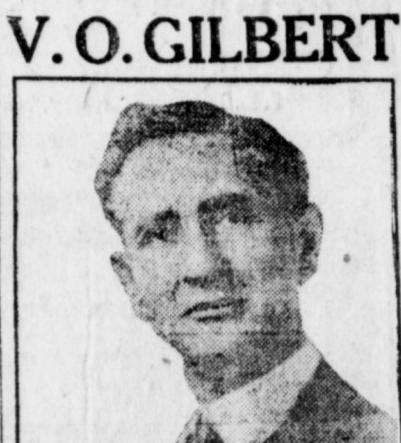

"I am greatly interested in seeing the Democratic party victorious in the coming contest for the control of the affairs of our State for the next four years. For us to be defeated in this contest would not only entail upon our people the blight of mis-government, which has always followed Republican rule, but it would make doubtful the State of Kentucky in the greater contest next year, and would greatly dishearten our Democratic brethren in the entire nation. More than this, it would be heralded as a repudiation of the administration of the greatest President this Republic has known for half a century."

THOUGHT IT SETTLED.

"I greatly regret to see our party threatened with inter-necine warfare upon the question of State-wide prohibition. We were told, and we all believed, this question was settled for good when we declared in our Democratic platform of 1911 for the county unit, and thereafter enacted it into a law, which gave to each self-governing community, namely, the county—the unit recognized by the constitution—the right to settle this question for itself. Under this law 106 counties have prohibited the license of the sale of liquors, and the other fourteen counties of the State may do likewise, if it is the will of the people of those self-governing communities. I believe this law has proved satisfactory to the people of the State of Kentucky. I am opposed to State-wide prohibition because it is undemocratic, and denies local self-government to the people of the State. It substitutes the will of one people in one county over another people in another county, under wholly different environments."

PLATFORM OF 1911.

"When we adopted our Democratic State platform of 1911, we said we did it to enable the people of each county to decide for 'themselves' this question. Now it is proposed to withdraw this right of local self-government from them, and provide that others shall decide for them, we declare in this same platform

KENTUCKY VOTERS!

You Should Vote For Jas. P. Edwards
For Lieutenant Governor

- 1st. Because he will bring more strength to the ticket in November than any man running.
- 2nd. Because he is a Democrat, who has never bolted nor sundered and has always been active for the Party.
- 3rd. Because a man from the Fifth Congressional District should be on the ticket to secure the thirty thousand Democratic votes there for the ticket in November.
- 4th. Because he is running in the interests of the plain people and will make a good Lieutenant Governor.
- 5th. Because he was defeated only by fifteen hundred and sixty-two votes for this nomination four years ago.
- 6th. Because he will work for the development of our state and unite the Democratic Party.
- 7th. Because he will greatly appreciate your support.

that "temperance is essentially a moral, nonpolitical and social question, and shall not be made a partisan issue between political parties." Shall we now repudiate this declaration, and not only make it an issue between political parties, but make it the paramount one?

STANDS WITH PRES. WILSON.

"I take my stand squarely with President Wilson, the leader of the Democracy of this nation, in favor of local option as the true Democratic doctrine upon the question of the regulation of the liquor traffic. The President stated that he was a thorough believer in local self-government, and believed that ever self-governing community, which constitutes a social unit, should have the right to settle this question. This, in my judgment is the true Democratic doctrine, for local self-government, which in its very essence is home rule, has long been the watchword of democracy. It is the granite foundation upon which the Democratic party has builded not for a day, not for political emergency, but as a fundamental truth, and for all time. Upon the platform of 1911, embodying this doctrine, we went to the greatest victory within twenty years. Whatever else may be said about the Democratic party, no one has ever charged that it was a shuttlecock, that it blew hot in one platform and cold in another one. Its principles have been lasting, and its faith has been constant.

FOR THE COUNTY UNIT.

"I believe the Democratic party should declare in favor of the continuance and strict enforcement of the existing county unit law. I hope that no Democrat will by his vote directly or indirectly do anything to force upon our party a declaration in favor of State-wide prohibition,

ALLENWORTH AND SMITH

Held Joint Debate Yesterday
Afternoon at Court

Yesterday afternoon a joint debate between Jas. B. Alensworth and Denny P. Smith, opposing candidates for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's attorney, was held in the Court House, before a demonstrative and enthusiastically interested crowd of nearly 400 in the circuit court room.

CHALCIS FLY HURTS ALFALFA

Insect Ruins Seeds Which It Enters—
Dean of Kansas College Tells of Preventive Measures.

"For the past seven or eight years Kansas growers of alfalfa or clover seed have suffered considerable losses from the damage of the clover chalcis fly," says George A. Dean, professor of entomology in the Kansas state agricultural college. "At the present time there seems to be no specific remedy or cure, but the extermination of this pest would be aided if a few simple directions were consistently followed."

The clover chalcis fly, or as it is better known, the alfalfa chalcis, is a small, four-winged insect about one-tenth of an inch long. The adult flies deposit their eggs in the soft, partly grown seeds. Here the eggs develop and the larvae feed upon the inner portion of the seeds. At the time when the seeds become ripe, most of the larvae are emerging as adults. Some of the larvae pass winter within the seed pod and emerge the following spring.

Much can be accomplished against this pest if some of the following methods of prevention are carried out: Burn the fence rows in early spring or fall. Cultivate the alfalfa fields in the winter so as to destroy all hibernating larvae. Destroy screenings from threshed seed. Plant well cleaned seed that has been fumigated by carbon bisulphide. Cut the alfalfa and clover along the banks and fences, because the earliest seed pods are found to develop on isolated and vigorous plants and the first generation of flies often matures before the main crop is ripe.

Darwin Relics.

The late William Erasmus Darwin, who was a son of Charles Darwin, recently left a number of relics of his famous father to his nephew, with the request that they be kept permanently in the possession of the Darwin family. These relics include the family portraits, many medals that had been presented to his father, the letter written home by him while on the "Beagle" expedition and two early sketches of "The Origin of Species." —Scientific American.

Billy is fond of attending the picture shows with his grandma and he considers himself her chief protector. One evening a large black bear was performing all sorts of antics in the picture, which Billy was enjoying immensely until suddenly the bear turned towards the audience. Billy slipped down from his seat and, taking hold of his grandma's hand, said: "Tum an, damna, let's do home. I don't like the looks of dat bear." —Ex-Change.

This morning at 10:00 o'clock Miss Holman will give her first demonstration with ten children about six years old who have never attended school. It is hoped that the people of the city will attend this demonstration and especially the members of the Parent-Teachers Club.
